You and your group are invited to attend a free Fall Showcase, on Sunday, October 21, celebrating the work of African-American artist Willie Cole. The exhibition "Anxious Objects: Willie Cole's Favorite Brands" is the Cantor Arts Center's featured exhibition for the fall. We hope many of your members can attend. Admission to the Cantor Arts Center is always free, and weekend parking is free.

Fall Showcase at Cantor Arts Center, Stanford University

All 24 galleries will be open for viewing, with works spanning 4000 years and diverse cultures, from ancient Egypt and China to the 21st century. Fall Showcase tours, Sunday, October 21:

- 1 pm Introducing the Cantor Arts Center
- 2 pm "Anxious Objects"
- 2 pm Papua New Guinea Sculpture Garden (meets elsewhere on campus, at Santa Teresa Street and Lomita Drive)
- 3 pm In Spanish: Introducing the Cantor Arts Center
- 3 pm "Anxious Objects"
- 3 pm Auguste Rodin

The Center is open from 11 am to 5 pm on Sundays, and visitors are welcome to bring picnic lunches to eat in the Rodin Sculpture Garden or to order food at the Center's café. Your group is welcome to attend for any portion of the day.

In addition to the Fall Showcase and ongoing public tours, your group can arrange a free, private tour at the Cantor Arts Center for another day by contacting Tour Scheduler Sara Davis Teeple six weeks in advance: 650-723-3469, smdt@stanford.edu.

We hope to see you at the Fall Showcase.

With best regards,

Jan Marie Barker-Alexander
Assistant Dean
Director, Black Community Services Center
